The Aztec World

October 26, 2008 - April 19, 2009

With tour groups in mind, our staff has created imaginative itineraries revolving around this exclusive exhibition at The Field Museum. Listed are suggested group itineraries.

Enjoy The Aztec World exhibition at The Field Museum. While you are in Chicago, don't forget to...

- Explore The Ancient Americas exhibition at The Field Museum. This exhibit journeys through 13,000 years of cultural evolution – from the eyes of an early nomadic people and later through several thriving Mesoamerican empires.
- Schedule a group cooking demonstration and lunch in the trendy Macy's on State Street Culinary Studio with Culinary Council Cooking Class Member Rick Bayless' Mexican recipes.
- Visit the largest Latino Museum in the United States. The National Museum of Mexican Art is nestled in Chicago's Pilsen neighborhood.
- While in Pilsen and the Little Village neighborhoods, see one of the nation's largest Mexican and Mexican-American communities. Guides are available for walking or motor coach tours. Learn about the neighborhoods' histories, famous outdoor murals and old-world traditions still practiced today.
- Shop for Mexican folk art on Pilsen's strip of shops, galleries and boutiques.
- Relax with a cup of traditional Mexican hot chocolate after your excursions.
- Kick up your heels at a Salsa Dancing Class.
- End your day with an authentic Mexican dinner and flan tasting.
